Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about President Putin. Russians have suffered during the past decade under his criminal corruption which has included political persecution, international terrorism and economic stagnation. The evidence that you are deeply in his debt continues to mount and there is no reason to suspect that Americans will fare any better than Russians if you are not stopped. Your family and campaign meetings with Russians to trade polling data and dirt on opponents along with long denied business plans, moves to ignore aggression in the Ukraine and chumminess with Mr Kislyak all point to collusion. Your twitter tantrum today after learning that twenty months ago the FBI opened a counter intelligence investigation into this matter added to the sense of guilt. I trust that the new House session with subpoena power and a new majority will bring greater clarity.

Please assure me that you will resign.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our political freedom.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
