Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about pollution. You often brag of the EPAs past successes cleaning up our air and water particularly when confronted with your refusal to act on climate change. This has become an all out war on truth with scientific panels sidelined and serious restrictions on which studies and effects may be considered in EPA decisions. You have even overruled the weather service over a storm path. This Monday after 30 months of study the GOA found your two worldviews to be at odds with most of the nations thousands of superfund sites threatened bwith a range of disasters resulting from the changing climate. Sadly the EPA has already rejected implementing the key suggestion in this report which is to assess the likely effects of climate change on sites now rather than scrambling to respond after a disaster hits as happened in several harrowing cases mentioned in the report.

Please assure me that you will direct the EPA to consider the changing climate.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our safe environment.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
