Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about voting. For the past decade I have been enjoying voting by mail which allows me to more easily research the issues and avoid lines and the worry of forgetting the day. Voting security was among the first issues you addressed with a commission run by Vice President Pence and Mr Kobach but they overlooked this approach which Oregon began in 1998 and many states have now found to run more smoothly and increase participation while also being more resistant to hacking. The ongoing pandemic has highlighted another advantage with two states postponing in person primary elections. Senator Wyden is moving accordingly to enact voting by mail nationally.

Please assure me that you will support voting by mail.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from universal suffrage.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
