Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about threats.

You are prone to projection calling others liars, crooked and criminal. Your paranoid comments on an apparently innocuous picture posted by Mr Comey are a particularly frightening example of your violent intent. A simple (prime) number in some beach art you have taken to be a personal threat. You and your proxies rather have been issuing lurid threats and slanderous lies against the many judges ruling against you. Your Justice Department even arrested one in Milwaukee with AG Bondi threatening more arrests. Senator Durbin and more than 100 ex-judges have denounced these actions. Unlike a photograph of beach art the result is a dangerous environment for judges and their families.

Please assure me that you will avoid blackmail.

My pride in the US derives in part from our civil society.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
