Dear Mr President:

I am concerned to hear of another restriction on visas. This is a country of immigrants and currently has extreme restrictions on immigrants and refugees. The further restrictions on all visas from several countries, refugee processing times and totals for skilled work visas will further damage the country. There are many benefits to contact with the outside world from personal connections to expertise not locally available to the moral imperative of helping the persecuted.

Please assure me that you will work to improve international relationships.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our worldliness.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
