Dear Mr President:

I am very concerned by the violence of your supporters. Today there was a rally here in Berkeley in your support. Several people were quoted as preparing to act violently and indeed there were a number of fights and arrests. There have been many similar protests with similar levels of violence throughout the country. There have also been court rulings suggesting your own possible responsibility for inciting violence at campaign rallies. The official silence here is deafening.

Please assure me that you will clearly denounce this violence in your name.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from civil political discourse.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
