Dear Senator Feinstein:

I am concerned about extrajudicial expulsions. Our country has become very stratified both by wealth and more insidiously by legal categories. The immigration service has become an enforcer of lower class status. I am happy to see you pushing to reestablish DACA and introducing a bill to help RN Mendoza-Sanchez but these are only two of many ways my government is terrorizing recent arrivals. Today Secretary Nielsen alone decided to expel 200000 Salvadorans following Acting Secretary Duke's similar action toward Haitians and Nicaraguans. This legislation of a two tier system is immoral and very damaging to our society. The repulsive attitude that expulsion of young people is a good bargaining point must not be catered to. Immigrants have been left at the whim of the executive branch for too long.

Please work toward a more comprehensive path to citizenship for all US residents.

I am very proud to be a US citizen and a large part of that derives from our egalitarian society.

s Sincerely,
Eric Babson
