Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about nepotism. Your son in law is in the news again. While many of your appointees have had little or no experience related to their positions Mr Kushner seems particularly underqualified and to have a particularly large portfolio. This week there are reports that he accesses top secret information more than anyone else in the administration even while remaining without a security clearance. While I do not know the reasons for this delayed clearance process one might guess that his various failures to report foreign connections are involved. This gives the appearance that US security is being compromised because of your family connections.

Please assure me that you will remove your family from government.

I am very proud to be a US citizen and a large part of that derives from our elected government.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
