Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about scandal. The past weeks juvenile insults aimed at Mr Comey both in tone and volume suggest so much distraction that other decisions are likely to be suffering. This gives the appearance that the very limited strike in Syria is designed as a distraction from your scandals rather than an attempt to help the situation there - that your pardon of Mr Libby is designed to encourage people testifying about your scandals to lie for you rather than to correct a judicial error - that your skipping the Summit of the Americas is designed to leave you time to attack Mr Comey rather than to attend to international affairs. In short it appears that your administration is so mired in scandals as to be unable to administer the governance of my country.

Please assure me that you will focus on the presidency or step aside.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our professional government.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
