Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about treason. Your meetings this past week in Europe have been nothing if not entertaining, from the fiasco with NATO to your bizarre advice to PM May and the advertising for your failing golf course but you saved the best for last. For two years there has been ample and growing evidence of Russian interference in and for your election. You even cited Russian ties in firing Security Adviser Flynn. The spectacle of a US president taking orders to ignore US intelligence agencies from a foreign leader was shocking. Since this appears to remove any doubt that you are beholden to President Putin one can only imagine that whatever he has on you must be remarkably compromising.

Please assure me that you will resign.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from the rule of law.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
