Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about citizenship. I hope that after the election your hysterical xenophobic ranting will quiet down a bit as you face House committees finally willing to examine your extreme corruption. You have attacked minority children by canceling DACA. You have attacked minority children by tearing them from their parents and last week mused about ordering this horror revived. You have attacked minority children by building bureaucratic obstacles to returning them to their families. You have now even attacked minority children from birth by moving to circumvent the constitutional guarantee of birthright citizenship. Your hatefulness does serious damage to our society, encourages attacks throughout the world and cheapens US citizenship.

Please assure me that you will uphold the constitution and human dignity.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our melting pot.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
