Dear Mr President:

I am concerned by indifference to working Americans. You ran as a populist but have spent the week with the government in partial shutdown. For most people your wall tantrum is simply an embarrassment but for many others working directly or even indirectly for the government (immigration judges, park rangers, reservation staff) this means being idled with missing paychecks and no way to plan for the future. This is felt particularly by the growing group of people in our shockingly inequitable economy with only a few hundred dollars saved who live largely paycheck to paycheck. Finally there are the people who appreciate or count on government services such as maintaining and policing our parks and more importantly providing health services on reservations.

Please assure me that you will resign.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our effective government.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
