Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about mail delivery. The postal service is a clear example of the need for Congress to keep a tight reign on administration officials such as you and Secretary Mnuchin. You have frequently attacked details of postal service policy in your vendetta against Mr Bezos and threatened to veto the latest loan package over support for the agency. After working to minimize Congressional oversight and claiming personal responsibility for these loans Treasury has squandered resources on larger companies not threatened with ruin leaving many intended recipients in the breach and is floating a plan to condition agreed to USPS support on a political takeover bringing to mind your destruction of the popular CFPB. I worry that you are more focused on scoring political hits than helping society.

Please assure me that you will focus on covid not mail.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our honest leadership.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
