Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about racial divisions. Your job includes management which you have so badly muddled that 100000 are dead and the economy you inherited is in shambles. It also includes bringing the country together in crises by acting the part of a responsible adult. This week you did the opposite by threatening in a knee jerk tweet to slaughter protesters in Minneapolis. The protests result from the gruesome police murder of Mr Floyd most analogous to that of Mr Garner - another prosecution your administration dropped. Now your job is to call for calm and a speedy judicial response.

Please assure me that you will act to unite.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our slowly improving race relations.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
