Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about crime. After a year and a half of investigation a filing by New York became public today describing a variety of financial crimes by you and your organization. Your abuse of financial condition statements was outlined by the Washington Post last year and since then you have been working to suppress rather than answer evidence with yet another ruling last week that your filings lack merit and are intended only to delay. The strong suspicion of guilt and distraction for both you and the rest of your family/administration make it impossible to command the respect required for your job.

Please assure me that you will resign and answer for your crimes.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from the rule of law.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
