Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about judicial review. You began this job with an order trying to ban Muslims but grudgingly deferred to the courts when it was blocked - achieving the result instead by appointing malleable judges and rewriting the order. Later that year you began a long cruel erosion of the DACA program leaving a million young people to find their way with the constant threat of sudden deportation to the country of their parents. This month your administration has reaffirmed a plan to further cut DACA in direct defiance of a district court order based on a supreme court ruling from November. This test of your power to ignore the courts along with your previous moves to ignore Congressional subpoenae is a terrifying step toward autocracy.

Please assure me that you will defer to the court with DACA.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our constitution.

*Sincerely,
Eric Babson*
