Dear Mr Vice President:

I am concerned about dementia. The president has been remarkably dishonest, cruel, vindictive and inconsistent and yet I fear it is getting worse. This week he berated his strongest allies for not arresting political opponents and flip-flopped more times than I can remember on COVID assistance - the main policy issue remaining. Both his disease (COVID) and his treatment (steroids) are implicated in significant neurological effects. I worry that his remaining 100 days in command of the nuclear arsenal and able to shut down much of the government may be disastrous.

Please assure me that you are prepared to invoke section four of the twentyfifth amendment.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our orderly transitions.

*Sincerely,
Eric Babson*
