Dear Mr President:

I am concerned about transition. Our long tradition of orderly regime changes has enabled a smoothly functioning government for generations through a broad array of personalities and ideologies. With the election of Mr Biden and Senator Harris the incoming team consists of seasoned professionals but their work would still be eased if you were to follow standard protocols. Step one would be to stop pretending you won so that everyone can focus on what is to come and security threats (such as 9-11) can be avoided. Then it might help to spend a couple months golfing rather than destroying the postal system, ignoring courts to skew the census, killing people by mocking masks and carrying water for Sen McConnell's obstruction of economic relief.

Please assure me that you will not destroy the country on your way out.

I am very proud to be a US resident and a large part of that derives from our democracy.

Sincerely,
Eric Babson
