TA: Kyle Chickering

Email: krchickering@ucdavis.edu

Webpage: <https://math.ucdavis.edu/~krchickering/courses/mat21b.html>

Office: MSB 3202, office hours by appointment only

Calc Room: Friday 3-5p. (MSB 1118)

Discussion Policies:

- If you would like to use a laptop in discussion, please sit in the back of the classroom so as not to distract other students.
- Please raise your hand to ask a question.
- No photos of the board.
- No talking while instructor is talking.
- Please step outside to answer your phone.
- Please come on time. If you are late for whatever reason please enter through the back of the classroom.

Quizzes:

- Quiz will be administered during the last 10 minutes of class. You have one minute after time is called to turn in your quiz.
- There will be no makeup quizzes accepted.
- If you need to miss a discussion section and know ahead of time, contact me up to 72 hours (3 days) before the scheduled quiz date and I will have you take the quiz early.
- I will try to grade the quizzes before Friday at 3p. If I have the quizzes graded by then you can pick them up in calc room. Otherwise they will be returned the next discussion section.
- You have one week after the quizzes are returned (in discussion section) to ask about grading issues.
- Save all of your quizzes so if there are issues with inputting the score in canvas you have a record of them. Your lowest quiz score will be dropped.
- If you fail to pick up a quiz you may email me and pick it up from my office.
- All work on the quizzes must be your own, and notes are not allowed.
- No calculators or cell phones during the quiz.

Email Policy:

- Be Professional in your emails. Email is not a text message. Use full sentences.
- State your name and section number so that I know who you are.
- I will try to respond within 24 hours on weekdays, and I will respond on Monday if I receive email over the weekend.
- I will not respond to emails which can be answered on either my syllabus or the course syllabus.

Math Resources:

Math is hard, and there are many resources on campus to help you understand the material we are covering. Math is learned by doing problems, and these resources will help you with exactly that. I highly encourage everyone to come to calc room at least once a week to work on homework with peers and TAs.

- Calc room (MSB 1118): This is a room downstairs in the Mathematical Sciences Building where TAs are on staff to help with any calculus related problem solving. Hours are MTWR: 10a-7p, F:10a-6p. https://www.math.ucdavis.edu/resources/calc_room/
- Drop in Tutoring (2205 Dutton): The tutoring center has experienced undergraduate tutors who can help you with your coursework. Hours are MTWRF: 8a-4p. <https://tutoring.ucdavis.edu/math>
- Stem Café: Run by the Women's Resources and Research Center (WRRRC). Math night is T:4p-6p in North Hall 125. <https://www.math.ucdavis.edu/undergrad/stemcafe/>

Campus Resources

Our campus provides many resources for students who are experiencing any kind of difficulty with their university experience, including personal matters. Also, as a student you are allowed to meet with a counselor or psychologist several times each quarter free of charge.

- If you are experience harassment of any kind, contact Harassment and Discrimination Assistance and Prevention Program (HDAPP): <https://hdapp.ucdavis.edu/> (530) 753-1011
